1. Qualitative Information Regarding Financial Results for the Six Months Ended September 30, 2017

(1) Information Regarding Operating Results

The global economy during the six months ended September 30, 2017, remained on a modest rebound track primarily in developed countries. The United States maintained steady economic growth, backed by an improvement in the employment situation and an increase in individual consumption and capital expenditures. European economies, especially in the euro-zone, continued a moderate recovery due to an improvement in capital investment and productivity. The Chinese economy showed some signs of a partial rally in the market due to the effects of the government's various economic measures, and economic growth in other emerging countries in Asia also remained on a recovery track. Amid these conditions, the Japanese economy continued to recover gradually as a result of the ongoing improvement in the employment and income environment and increased exports and capital investment supported by the steady recovery of the global economy.

Among the industries in which Hitachi Metals Group (the "Group") operates, in the automobile industry, sales in Japan significantly increased, led by strong demand for new models; and Europe and China also showed steady demand, while sales in new vehicles decreased in the United States compared with those for the six months ended September 30, 2016. Demand for steel increased mainly in the manufacturing sector, including automobile and industrial machinery. The number of new housing starts remained at the same level. In the electronics industry, mobile device shipments increased.

Under the business circumstances described above, for the six months ended September 30, 2017, revenues of the Group increased by 8.1% to ¥482,361 million, compared with those for the six months ended September 30, 2016. This result was affected mainly by a rise in raw materials prices (a sliding-scale raw material price system) and the depreciation of the yen, in addition to an increase in demand for mainstays. Adjusted operating income* increased by ¥1,156 million to ¥32,188 million, compared with those for the six months ended September 30, 2016, mainly due to an increase in income associated with increased revenue and effects of cost reduction activities, despite a rise in costs associated with active investment. Operating income decreased by ¥2,025 million to ¥26,788 million, compared with that for the six months ended September 30, 2016, because of an increase in non-operating expenses. For the six months ended September 30, 2017, income before income taxes increased by ¥3,218 million to ¥28,025 million and net income attributable to shareholders of the parent company increased by ¥1,301 million to ¥19,641 million, compared with those for the six months ended September 30, 2016.

Results by business segment are as follows. Note that revenues for each segment include intersegment revenues. There were no changes to the businesses of the Group during the six months ended September 30, 2017.

The Group has changed its segment names from "High-Grade Metal Products and Materials" to "Specialty Steel Products" and from "High-Grade Functional Components and Equipment" to "Functional Components and Equipment" effective from April 1, 2017. This change in segment names does not affect the segment information.

The Company has also changed the business segment of SH Copper Products Co., Ltd, a subsidiary of the Company, and one other subsidiary from the Wires, Cables, and Related Products segment to the Specialty Steel Products segment as of July 1, 2017, aiming to strengthen battery-related components in the Specialty Steel Products segment. The segment information for the six months ended September 30, 2017, is prepared and disclosed under the segments reflecting this change.

Specialty Steel Products

Revenues in the Specialty Steel Products segment for the six months ended September 30, 2017, were ¥140,954 million, an increase of 21.7%, and adjusted operating income increased by ¥2,426 million to ¥13,524 million, as compared with those for the six months ended September 30, 2016. Operating income of the segment increased by ¥3,231 million to ¥13,193 million for the same period.

<Specialty Steel>

Sales of molds and tool steel exceeded those for six months ended September 30, 2016, due to a recovery in demand for both Japan and Asia. Sales of industrial equipment materials increased overall compared with those for the six months ended September 30, 2016, as sales of environmentally friendly products related to automobiles as well as other industrial components, in particular, components for semiconductor-related equipment, increased. Sales of alloys for electronic products significantly increased compared with those for the six months ended September 30, 2016, due to strong sales in semiconductor package components in addition to increased sales of battery-related and organic EL panel-related components. Aircraft-related and energy-related materials showed weak sales.

<Rolls>

Sales of injection molding machine parts showed recovery resulting from an increase in demand for mobile devices. Meanwhile, in September 2016, the Group discontinued production of rolls at a Chinese subsidiary for the purpose of concentrating management resources in high value-added products. As a result, sales of rolls as a whole fell year on year.

<Soft Magnetic Materials and Applied Products>

Sales of soft magnetic materials and applied products as a whole fell below those for the six months ended September 30, 2016, due to a drop in demand of amorphous metals, although sales of applied products for mobile devices and automobiles increased because of the robust demand.

Magnetic Materials and Applications

Revenues in the Magnetic Materials and Applications segment for the six months ended September 30, 2017, were ¥52,103 million, an increase of 7.4%, and adjusted operating income increased by ¥1,082 million to ¥4,839 million, as compared with those for the six months ended September 30, 2016. Operating income of the segment increased by ¥1,103 million to ¥4,788 million for the same period.

Sales of rare earth magnets overall exceeded those for the six months ended September 30, 2016. The increase in sales is attributable to strong demand in automotive electronic components for electric power steering and hybrid automobiles and solid sales of industrial equipment, supported by increased capital investment-related demand for flat-panel displays, mobile devices, and semiconductors. Sales of ferrite magnets increased compared with those for the six months ended September 30, 2016, due to strong demand for automotive electronic components, reflecting increased automobile production as well as a robust demand for household appliance parts.

Functional Components and Equipment

Revenues in the Functional Components and Equipment segment for the six months ended September 30, 2017, were ¥178,373 million, an increase of 9.8%, and adjusted operating income decreased by ¥3,113 million to ¥6,234 million, as compared with those for the six months ended September 30, 2016. Operating income of the segment decreased by ¥3,650 million to ¥5,490 million for the same period.

<Casting Components for Automobiles>

Despite a slowdown in demand for casting components for pickup trucks and other light trucks as well as passenger vehicles in North America, sales of casting components for automobiles increased as a whole compared with those for the six months ended September 30, 2016. This is due to an increase in demand for casting components for commercial vehicles, farming machinery, and construction machinery in North America, and increased demand for automobiles in Asia. Sales of heat-resistant exhaust casting components increased as compared with the same period of the prior year due to an increase in demand in the American, European, and Asian markets. Sales of aluminum wheels fell below those for the six months ended September 30, 2016, affected by decreased demand for passenger vehicles in North America.

<Piping Components>

Despite decreased demand in Japan, sales of pipe fittings as a whole exceeded those for the six months ended September 30, 2016 due to stable demand overseas and strong performance in devices for semiconductor manufacturing equipment, reflecting an increase in demand for semiconductor-related equipment.

Wires, Cables, and Related Products

Due to effects of a reorganization conducted for the purpose of renewing the Group's business portfolio, revenues in the Wires, Cables, and Related Products segment for the six months ended September 30, 2017, were ¥110,486 million, a decrease of 6.9% while adjusted operating income increased by ¥854 million to ¥6,904 million, as compared with those for the six months ended September 30, 2016, because of the expansion of the focused fields. Operating income of the segment decreased by ¥2,598 million to ¥2,796 million for the same period, due to an increase in other expenses.

<Electric Wires and Cables>

Sales of wires and cables for rolling stock grew significantly, including growth in China. Sales of electric wires for semiconductor manufacturing equipment and working tools increased, and magnet wires for automobiles and industrial machinery also resulted in greater sales.

<High Performance Components>

Demand for various sensors, harnesses for electric parking brakes and hybrid automobiles increased, and demand for brake hoses was also strong. Sales of probe cables for medical use increased as compared with the same period of the prior year due to increased demand in overseas countries.

Other

Revenues in the Other segment for the six months ended September 30, 2017, were ¥1,588 million, an increase of 7.7%, and adjusted operating income increased by ¥6 million to ¥141 million, as compared with those for the six months ended September 30, 2016. Operating income of the segment increased by ¥56 million to ¥190 million for the same period.

*Adjusted operating income is the operating income recorded in the condensed interim consolidated statement of income, excluding non-operating income and expenses, and extraordinary income and losses. Adjusted operating income is a unified profit indicator for the Hitachi Group, including Hitachi, Ltd.

(2) Analysis of Financial Condition

1) Assets, liabilities, and equity

The analysis of changes in the Group's condensed interim consolidated statement of financial position as of the end of the period ended September 30, 2017, is as follows:

Total assets were ¥1,073,055 million, an increase of ¥32,665 million compared with the end of the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017. Current assets were ¥506,569 million, an increase of ¥14,674 million compared with the end of the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017. This was mainly attributable to increases in trade receivables and inventories of ¥21,302 million and ¥20,710 million, respectively, and a decrease in cash and cash equivalents of ¥29,944 million. Non-current assets were ¥566,486 million, an increase of ¥17,991 million compared with the end of the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017. This was mainly attributable to increases in property, plant and equipment of ¥17,414 million, respectively.

Total liabilities were ¥506,383 million, an increase of ¥14,739 million compared with the end of the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017. This was mainly attributable to the net effect of a decrease in current portion of long-term debt and long-term debt of ¥5,903 million in total and increases in short-term debt of ¥6,808 million, trade payables of ¥7,021 million, and accrued expenses of ¥5,751 million. Total equity was ¥566,672 million, an increase of ¥17,926 million compared with the end of the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017. This was mainly attributable to an increase in retained earnings of ¥14,100 million.

2) Cash flows

Cash and cash equivalents as of September 30, 2017, were ¥109,467 million, a decrease of ¥29,944 million from March 31, 2017, as a result of net cash used in investing activities and financing activities exceeding the cash provided by operating activities.

The analysis of cash flows for each category as of September 30, 2017, is as follows:

<Cash Flows from Operating Activities>

Net cash provided by operating activities was ¥12,046 million. This was mainly attributable to net income of ¥19,645 million, and depreciation and amortization of ¥22,739 million despite of increases in trade receivables of ¥19,557 million, inventories of ¥19,490 million, and trade payables of ¥5,519 million.

<Cash Flows from Investing Activities>

Net cash used in investing activities was ¥38,485 million, which was mainly attributable to payment of ¥39,129 million for the purchase of property, plant and equipment.

<Cash Flows from Financing Activities>

Net cash used in financing activities was ¥4,846 million. This was mainly attributable to a net increase in short-term debt of ¥6,783 million, payment of dividends of ¥5,711 million to shareholders, and repayment of long-term debt of ¥6,214 million.

(3) Forecasts for the Fiscal Year Ending March 31, 2018, including Consolidated Operating Forecasts

The performance for the six months ended September 30, 2017, resulted in the same level as the initial forecast, in general.

There will be no change to the figures in the operating forecast for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2018 (April 1, 2017, through March 31, 2018) that was announced on April 28, 2017.
