1. Qualitative Information Regarding Financial Results for the Six Months Ended September 30, 2016

(1) Information Regarding Operating Results

The global economy during the six months ended September 30, 2016, remained on a modest rebound track primarily in advanced countries. The United States and European economies continued to gradually rebound on improvements in the employment environment despite weak movements in some indicators used by corporations. Chinese economic growth remained stagnant despite some signs of a partial rally in the market underpinned by the government's economic measures to bolster business conditions. Following such trends in China, emerging countries also experienced economic slowdown. Amid these situations, in the Japanese economy, improvements in corporate profits and capital investment came to a halt, and concerns over the effects of a continuously strong yen and trends in emerging countries, such as China, remained despite an upswing in individual consumption due to the improvement in the employment environment.

Among the industries in which Hitachi Metals Group (the "Group") operates, the automobile industry experienced a continued slump in sales of light vehicle in the domestic market, with a decrease in sales of passenger cars in the United States despite favorable performance of pickup trucks. However, sales increased, compared with those for the six months ended September 30, 2015, on increased demand in Europe and China. Supply and demand of steel remained stagnant due to China's high-level exports of steel materials in the midst of weak global demand affected by economic slowdown in emerging countries. The number of new housing starts continued to increase both in the United States and Japan. In the electronics industry, mobile devices in emerging countries suffered from stagnant growth, while household appliances experienced sluggish demand from the summer onward.

Under the business circumstances described above, for the six months ended September 30, 2016, revenues of the Group decreased by 15.0% to ¥446,051 million and operating income decreased by ¥32,768 million to ¥28,813 million, compared with those for the six months ended September 30, 2015, influenced by a reduction in raw material prices (a sliding-scale raw material price system), the continued appreciation of the yen, and a decline in demand. Further, operating income decreased mainly due to a decrease in gross profit and gains on business reorganisation and others of ¥29,280 million in other income arising from a transfer of shares equivalent to 51% of the issued shares of Hitachi Tool Engineering, Ltd. (currently named Mitsubishi Hitachi Tool Engineering, Ltd.) to Mitsubishi Materials Corporation as of April 1, 2015, during the six months ended September 30, 2015. Income before income taxes decreased by ¥35,893 million to ¥24,807 million, and net income attributable to shareholders of the parent company decreased by ¥25,433 million to ¥18,340 million, compared with the same period of the prior year.

Results by business segment are as follows. Note that revenues for each segment include intersegment revenues. There were no changes to the businesses of the Group during the six months ended September 30, 2016.

Effective from the three months ended June 30, 2016, the Group changed part of its internal managerial categories of businesses and consolidated subsidiaries related to reportable segments. It also changed treatment for certain corporate general and administrative expenses, such as research expenses and other such expenses, which were previously treated as adjustments, to allocate them to applicable reporting segments based on the budget. Refer to "3. Condensed interim consolidated financial statements, (5) Segment information" for details.

Comparable year-on-year information presented below reflects the above changes to the categories of the reportable segments and treatment for certain corporate general and administrative expenses.

High-Grade Metal Products and Materials

Revenues in the High-Grade Metal Products and Materials segment for the six months ended September 30, 2016, were $115,862 million, a decrease of 12.1% as compared with those for the six months ended September 30, 2015. Operating income of the segment decreased by $30,204 million to $49,962 million for the same period due to the effects of the decrease in revenues as well as gains recognized on business reorganization and other of $25,931 million arising from the transfer of shares of Hitachi Tool Engineering, Ltd. (currently named Mitsubishi Hitachi Tool Engineering, Ltd.) during the three months ended June 30, 2015.

<Specialty Steel>

Sales of molds and tool steel fell below those for the six months ended September 30, 2015, due to inventory adjustments of molds and tool steel affected by an economic slowdown mainly in Asia during the three months ended June 30, 2016. In industrial equipment materials, sales of environment-friendly products related to automobiles increased, and sales of other industrial components were also strong. Sales of aircraft-related and energy-related materials faced an in-between season of demand. In alloys for electronic products, sales of display-related materials were stagnant.

<Rolls>

On September 1, 2016, the Group discontinued production at Baosteel Hitachi Rolls (Nantong) Ltd. with the objective of concentrating management resources in high value-added products. Additionally, sales of injection molding machine parts were affected by a decline in demand for mobile devices. As a result, rolls as a whole fell year on year.

<Soft Magnetic Materials and Applied Products>

Sales of soft magnetic materials and applied products fell below those for the six months ended September 30, 2015, due to a drop in demand in China.

Magnetic Materials and Applications

Revenues in the Magnetic Materials and Applications segment for the six months ended September 30, 2016, were \(\frac{\pmaterial}{48}\),499 million, a decrease of 11.7% as compared with those for the six months ended September 30, 2015. Operating income of the segment increased by \(\frac{\pmaterial}{119}\) million to \(\frac{\pmaterial}{3}\),685 million for the same period.

In rare earth magnets, demand for industrial equipment and household appliances remained at the same level as that for the six months ended September 30, 2015, despite strong demand in automotive electronic components for electric power steering and hybrid automobiles.

In ferrite magnets, there was strong demand for automotive electronic components and household appliance parts. However, sales for the segment fell below those for the six months ended September 30, 2015, overall due to the effects of the reduction in raw material prices (a sliding-scale raw material price system) and the continued appreciation of the yen.

High-Grade Functional Components and Equipment

Revenues in the High-Grade Functional Components and Equipment segment for the six months ended September 30, 2016, were ¥162,468 million, a decrease of 14.0% as compared with those for the six months ended September 30, 2015. Operating income of the segment decreased by ¥3,042 million to ¥9,140 million for the same period.

<Casting Components for Automobiles>

Despite sustained strong demand for casting components for pickup trucks in North America, sales of casting components for automobiles as a whole decreased compared with those for the six months ended September 30, 2015, due to a decrease in demand for casting components for farming machinery and construction machinery resulting from economic slowdown in emerging countries and a drop in grain and crude oil prices. Sales of heat-resistant exhaust casting components exceeded those for the same period of the prior year due to strong performance in Europe as well as significant sales growth in the United States and Asia. Sales of aluminum wheels fell below those for the same period of the prior year due to the continued appreciation of the yen despite robust demand.

<Piping Components>

Sales of pipe fittings as a whole fell below those for the six months ended September 30, 2015, due to the effects of the delay in large-scale constructions despite the increased number of new housing starts both in Japan and overseas.

Wires, Cables, and Related Products

Revenues in the Wires, Cables, and Related Products segment for the six months ended September 30, 2016, were \\ \pm 118,656 \text{ million, a decrease of 19.6% as compared with those for the six months ended September 30, 2015. Operating income of the segment decreased by \\ \pm 950 \text{ million to } \\ \pm 5,394 \text{ million for the same period due to gains recognized on business reorganization and others of \\ \pm 2,249 \text{ million during the three months ended June 30, 2015.}

<Electric Wires and Cables>

While revenues from magnet wires and electrical wires and cables for construction decreased, sales of wires and cables for rolling stock, which is one of the focus areas of the Group, grew significantly, especially for China.

<Functional Components>

In automotive products, demand for both electronic components for automobiles and brake hoses was strong. Sales of probe cables for medical use fell below those for the same period of the prior year due to diminished demand in overseas countries.

<Information System Devices and Materials>

Sales of information system devices and materials were affected by prolonged sluggish capital investments in infrastructure by telecommunications carriers.

(2) Analysis of Financial Condition

(a) Assets, liabilities, and equity

The analysis of changes in the Group's condensed interim consolidated statement of financial position as of the end of the period ended September 30, 2016, is as follows:

Total assets were \(\frac{\pmansum}{991,208}\) million, a decrease of \(\frac{\pmansum}{42,103}\) million compared with the end of the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016. Current assets were \(\frac{\pmansum}{466,060}\) million, a decrease of \(\frac{\pmansum}{17,795}\) million compared with the end of the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016. This was mainly attributable to decreases in trade receivables and inventories of \(\frac{\pmansum}{7},876\) million and \(\frac{\pmansum}{5},961\) million, respectively. Non-current assets were \(\frac{\pmansum}{525,148}\) million, a decrease of \(\frac{\pmansum}{24,308}\) million compared with the end of the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016. This was mainly attributable to decreases in goodwill and intangible assets, and property, plant and equipment of \(\frac{\pmansum}{14,046}\) million and \(\frac{\pmansum}{7},753\) million, respectively.

Total liabilities were \(\frac{\pmathb{4}498,157}{\pmathrm{1}million}\), a decrease of \(\frac{\pmathrm{4}30,479}{\pmathrm{6}million}\) million compared with the end of the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016. This was mainly attributable to decreases in long-term debt and trade payables of \(\frac{\pmathrm{4}11,217}{\pmathrm{6}million}\), respectively. Total equity was \(\frac{\pmathrm{4}493,051}{\pmathrm{6}million}\), a decrease of \(\frac{\pmathrm{4}11,624}{\pmathrm{6}million}\) compared with the end of the fiscal year ended March 31, 2016. This was mainly attributable to a decrease in accumulated other comprehensive income of \(\frac{\pmathrm{4}24,069}{\pmathrm{6}million}\) despite an increase in retained earnings of \(\frac{\pmathrm{4}12,944}{\pmathrm{6}million}\).

(b) Cash flows

Cash and cash equivalents as of September 30, 2016, were ¥119,241 million, a decrease of ¥1,059 million from March 31, 2016, as a result of the effect of exchange rate changes on cash and cash equivalents despite cash provided by operating activities exceeding net cash used in investing activities and financing activities.

The analysis of cash flows for each category as of September 30, 2016, is as follows:

<Cash Flows from Operating Activities>

Net cash provided by operating activities was ¥35,219 million, which was mainly attributable to net income of ¥18,278 million and depreciation and amortization of ¥21,153 million for the six months ended September 30, 2016.

<Cash Flows from Investing Activities>

Net cash used in investing activities was \(\frac{4}{2}6,008\) million, which was mainly attributable to payment of \(\frac{4}{2}7,312\) million for the purchase of property, plant and equipment.

<Cash Flows from Financing Activities>

Net cash used in financing activities was ¥5,072 million, which was mainly attributable to a net increase in short-term debt of ¥6,204 million, payment of dividends of ¥5,678 million to shareholders, and repayment of long-term debt of ¥5,597 million.

(3) Forecasts for the Fiscal Year Ending March 31, 2017, including Consolidated Operating Forecasts

The performance for the six months ended September 30, 2016, fell slightly below the initial forecast due to the effects of the continued appreciation of the yen. Since it is expected that current foreign exchange trends and the economic slowdown in emerging countries will persist even after December 31, 2016, the operating forecasts for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2017 (April 1, 2016 through March 31, 2017) will be revised from the original forecast announced on April 27, 2016, as follows:

(Note) In order to give a true view of the condition of the Company's business without the effects of business restructuring, adjusted operating income is presented as "operating income" in the table above, wherein said adjusted operating income is the operating income recorded in the condensed interim consolidated statement of income, excluding non-operating income and expenses, and extraordinary income and losses. Adjusted operating income is a unified profit indicator for the Hitachi Group, including Hitachi, Ltd.

2. Matters Relating to Summary Information (Notes)

(1) Changes in Major Subsidiaries during the Six Months Ended September 30, 2016

Hitachi Metals, Ltd. (the "Company") excluded Hitachi Metals Automotive Components USA, LLC from the scope of consolidation for the six months ended September 30, 2016, as a result of an absorption-type merger in which Waupaca Foundry, Inc., a wholly-owned specified subsidiary of the Company, the surviving company, acquired Hitachi Metals Automotive Components USA, LLC, a wholly-owned specified subsidiary of the Company, the absorbed company.

(2) Changes in Accounting Policies and Accounting Estimates

There were no changes in accounting policies and accounting estimates.

(3) Additional Information

(Transfer of the Information Systems Business)

For the purpose of renewing our business portfolio and contributing to the further growth of the Information Systems Business (the "Business"), the Company entered into an agreement as of September 30, 2016, where the Business (information network business and wireless antenna business together with all issued shares of Hitachi Cable Networks, Ltd. held by the Company) is transferred to APRESIA Systems, Ltd. ("APRESIA Systems"), which is established as a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company as of October 7, 2016, through a company split (simplified absorption-type split), and all the shares issued by APRESIA Systems are transferred, effective December 1, 2016 (planned), to AAA Holdings, Ltd., a special purpose corporation wholly owned by NMC No. 3 Investment Business Limited Liability Partnership, which has Nihon Mirai Capital Co., Ltd as an advisor.

The effect of this transfer on operating income will be \quad \text{4} to 5 billion.

The Company and Sumitomo Metal Mining Co., Ltd. ("SMM") have entered into an agreement for the de-integration of the lead frame and copper product businesses as of September 30, 2016, for the purpose of making prompt management decisions in response to the rapidly changing market environment.

As a result, the Company will transfer its 49% interest in SH Materials Co., Ltd., which is a joint venture between the Company and SMM, to SMM in full, SMM will transfer its 50% interest in SH Copper Products Co., Ltd. ("SH Copper Products"), which is a joint venture between the Company and SMM, to the Company in full, and SH Copper Products will become a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company in early January 2017.

The effect of this share transfer/acquisition on operating income will be \(\frac{\pma}{3}\).5 to 4 billion.

Effective from the three months ended June 30, 2016, the Group changed part of its internal managerial categories of businesses and consolidated subsidiaries related to reportable segments, aiming for enhanced operational efficiency and further growth of the Soft magnetic materials-related businesses. Accordingly, the Soft magnetic materials and applied products business, which was previously included in the Magnetic Materials and Applications segment, has been aggregated into the High-Grade Metal Products and Materials segment.

In accordance with the change to the internal managerial categories, the Group also changed treatment for certain corporate general and administrative expenses, including research expenses that were previously treated as adjustments, to allocate such expenses to applicable reporting segments based on the budget.

Year-on-year comparable segment information presented below reflects the above changes to the categories of the reportable segments and treatment for certain corporate general and administrative expenses.
